NATION HASTENS TO SEND AID

No More Earthquakes Are Reported Today—Funston Says That Flames Are Now Under Control—Loss Grows Day By Day In Magnitude As Particulars Are Learned.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

San Francisco, Calif., April 20, 2 p. m.—The fire is under control, it having been checked at Van Ness avenue and in the mission. The fire is still raging north of Russian Hill toward the bay, but will not spread west. Probably a fourth of the city is safe and measures are being taken for the relief of the destitute.

Night Was Horrible

Last night was a horrible one for the refugees, most of them being without food or water and the sufferings were terrible. The bakeries are starting today and bread is being sent over from Oakland. Supplies of bread and milk are needed immediately. Swift & Co. have a half million pounds of canned beef south of San Francisco and this will be of material assistance.

Funston's Report

Washington, April 20.—The following telegram was received by the war department from General Funston at eleven o'clock this morning: "The burned district is now approximately as follows: From the water front to Broadway to Mason street, thence south to California street, thence west to Jones, thence diagonally to Van Ness and Golden Gate avenue. All within this line is now actively burning. The fire on the following line is practically dead: From Van Ness west on Golden Gate avenue to Fillmore, thence south to Market, thence in irregular line to Van Ness and Twenty-sixth, thence irregular line east to bay. The indications are that the active fire line will advance west to Van Ness and north to Union and Montgomery avenue.

From Santa Rosa
Washington, April 20.—Congressman McKinley of California has just received the following telegram from Gov. Pardee, dated Sacramento, Calif.: "The following is from an operator at Santa Rosa: From South street to the depot and from California street northwest to the postoffice all is in utter ruins; also Main street and from Mendocino to Fifth street. Fifty are dead and it is expected that fifty more will be taken out of the ruins."

Fire Stopping

New York, April 20.—The following was received from San Francisco at 9:00 o'clock Pacific time: "The fire in the residence section has been stopped at Octavia street and is now confined to Telegraph Hill. The flames will probably not spread much further in this direction."

Earlier Report

San Francisco, Calif., April 20.—At 5:19 a. m. California time the fire, which heretofore had crept around the base of Telegraph Hill and left some houses standing there, has now crept back from the west and is now in full possession of the houses on the hill. It will no doubt take everything down toward the water front on Van Ness avenue and west from there. The main fire has reached Octavia street and is going at a fast rate. There is no one back from the fire since midnight. At that time it had started afresh on the south line and the fire was burning fast. The fire came very close to Fort Mason last night, and the big Fontana warehouse and nearby buildings will no doubt go today.

SCIENTISTS DECLARE MORE SHOCKS LIKELY

Record of Recent Shocks Show That More May Come at Any Time.

The probability of other earthquake shocks, possibly of greater force and destructiveness than that of Wednesday, visiting San Francisco, was pointed out yesterday by scientists in many parts of the world.

It was asserted that the nature of the disturbance and the location of San Francisco both indicate that recurrences of the shock must be expected.

Professor John Milne yesterday developed the film made at his seismic observatory on the Isle of Wight near England. He declares his record shows the disturbance to have been caused by a large fault created by a yielding of the rocky strata undergoing the process of upheaval in the growth of the coast range.

Professor Milne believes other shocks are likely, but he says their force may not be as great as the recent one.

Tarr Fears Future Disasters
Ralph Stockman Tarr, professor of dynamic geology and physical geography at Cornell university, declared in New York that future disasters probably are in store for San Francisco.

"It is too early to pronounce a final opinion upon the nature and cause of the San Francisco earthquake," said Professor Tarr, "but from what has been said it will be seen that it is probable that this shock is the result of movements along one or more fault lines in the course of the natural growth of the coast ranges, which geologists have long known to be still in progress throughout the entire extent of California."

"Whether the center of greatest disturbance of the present shock is in or near the city cannot yet be told, though the meager reports so far received indicate it is. If it is, San Francisco is in danger of future disasters."

No Surprise to Van Hise

President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, one of the best known geologists in the country, says a disaster at San Francisco has long been expected by scientists.

"Scientists have known for many years that San Francisco is dangerously located and would probably sooner or later be subject to severe shocks."

Near at Hand

There are slight indications that Chicago may experience an earthquake within a few years, according to Prof. Paul Goode of the University of Chicago geology faculty. The presence of certain species of rock in the earth inside or near the city limits, he believes, is an indication of a condition that might result in the dismantling of a portion of the city.

"There is no geological proof that Chicago may have an earthquake in the next few years," Prof. Goode declared. "One can detect slight symptoms, however. Certain formations of certain kinds of rock underneath Chicago might be taken as an indication. An earthquake is as simple as the breaking of a timber."

"I believe that the seat of the disturbance at San Francisco was about seven miles below the surface of the earth."

MASSE THIS EVENING

SAN FRANCISCO NEEDS ALL

It is a National Calamity More Important Than Work in Foreign Fields.

Scarcely a baker's dozen of Janesville's residents appeared at the mass meeting called by the Mayor last evening. The entire lack of interest in the sufferings of residents of San Francisco so appalled the gentlemen present that they asked the Mayor to call another meeting for tonight that everyone might have an opportunity of attending. The meeting will be held in the city hall and it is expected that pastors, lawyers, professional men, business men and working men will all be present to lend their aid to the suffering Californians who need all that can be done for them at this time. Rich men have gone down in the pockets for large sums and cities much smaller than Janesville have contributed their share to the fund for relief. The meeting this evening is at eight and on such an occasion every walk in life should be represented.

ARE ANXIOUSLY AWAITING NEWS

UNEASINESS FELT REGARDING LOCAL PEOPLE IN WEST.

MRS. FETHERS HEARD FROM

But No Word Direct Comes from Misses Echlin Who Were at Brooklyn Hotel, Frisco.

S. R. Echlin this morning received a letter mailed by his sisters, the Misses Julia and Edith Echlin, from Los Angeles several days ago in which they detailed their plans regarding the return trip. They expected to go to San Francisco Tuesday and take a train out of that city about nine o'clock Wednesday morning. This forenoon he also received an answer to the message sent to his brother-in-law, L. D. Brode, at Los Angeles immediately after the first news of the earthquake reached Janesville. The latter says that the Misses Echlin were to stop at the Brooklyn hotel, which was located on Market street near the intersection of Fifth street and only a short distance from the Palace hotel. This building was not among those mentioned as destroyed by the earthquake and inasmuch as the Palace hotel, nearby, withstood the shock, there seems to be some ground for confidence that there is little cause for serious apprehension so far as that is concerned. But the subsequent fires and the possibility that the young ladies have not yet gotten out of the city are factors to reckon with which give their relatives and friends here a great deal of uneasiness and anxiety. Mr. Brode will doubtless make an effort to get into San Francisco, but there are many difficulties in the way. The dispatches say that none save press representatives and officials are permitted to enter.

Mrs. Fethers Is Safe

Word has been received from Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers who was to arrive in San Francisco at eight o'clock Wednesday morning. The train had gotten as far as Oakland when orders came to run it back to Stockton. Through the courtesy of the Southern Pacific railroad Mr. Fethers was able to learn yesterday afternoon about four o'clock that all passengers on this particular train were safe. About midnight he received a message from her, sent out from Montello, Nevada. Charles Burgess has relatives in San Francisco he is very anxious about.

Ferris and son; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Blunt and children; Mrs. Emma Comstock Whistler; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cunningham and daughter Mary; James Davy and children, Lorenzo and Mary.

MARTIN LUTHER'S

LIFE PORTRAYED

ONE HUNDRED LOCAL PEOPLE
TAKE PART.

MUSIC IS VERY EXCELLENT

Play Presented at Opera-House Last Evening—Will Be Given
Again Tonight.

Both opening and closing with an allegorical procession, vivified with the reproduction of three famous scenes and illustrated with stereopticon views, the life of Luther was portrayed and lectured upon at the Myers Opera-House last evening by Mrs.
Della E. Mayers of Washington, D. C., assisted by more than a hundred Janesville people, largely members of the Protestant church choir. The production was that of "The Story of the Reformation," which has been in preparation the past few weeks and was given under the auspices of St. Peter's English Lutheran church.
A goodly sized audience witnessed the entertainment and were thoroughly pleased. The music was excellent in every particular and the story of Luther's life and times as told in the scenes and lecture portions proved interesting. Considerable dramatic ability was displayed and the production proved equal to any given by local talent.

A Hundred Voices.

The title of the inaugurating procession is "Theology Entering the Union." One hundred people participate and two songs, by the entire chorus, are rendered. These are "The Song of God" and "Christus Ewe."
The picture presented by the marching participants is pretty. The leaders in this parade are Miss Gertrude Buchholz and Dr. Schleritzauer, and the part of Ecclesia, the central figure, is taken by Alice McPherson.
Among others are half a dozen pean-ant couples, garbed according to the times and the nation where the play is laid. These are: Pearl Peters, Chas.
Funk, Myrtle Fulton, Alfred Griswold, Leah Rowe, Emil Hanson, Isabel Ehr-
ling, Robert Lee, Maud Nicholson,
C. H. Nott, Leora Westlake, Fred Schopf.

Recital of Early Life.

At the close of this procession Mrs.
Mayers begins her lecture. She tells of the early life of Martin Luther, explaining and making more interesting her talk with the aid of colored slides. These are mostly from old prints. When she reaches the stage where Luther enters the Erfurt Monastery is introduced. The only dramatic portion of this, the role of a monk, is taken by Arthur Fisher. The others to take part form a chorus of male voices, singing hymns in the "language of the common people,"
contrary to the customs of the church.
Here the first friction between those who later became Lutherans and the established church is shown. The two songs, "Luther League Hymn" and "Jesus Shall Reign," are very ably rendered. The choirmen are: George Addins, Alfred Olson, Arthur Cleveland, M. H. Robinson, George Muen-chow, F. P. Grove, D. C. Harter, E. O.
Smith, H. P. Robinson, G. W. Livingston, F. E. Sadler, Rollo Dobson, F. W.
Isaac, Carl Kueck.

The Diet at Worms.

Continuing her talk Mrs. Mayers tells of the finding of the Bible, the mailing of the theses and excommunication, leading Luther to Worms.
Here a portion of the great trial at the Diet of Worms is produced. This part is the most difficult dramatically,
but every player last evening proved capable of his part. Special mention should be made of Rev. W. P. Christy,
Jesse Earle, Charles H. Hemingway,
Dr. F. G. Wolcott, Dr. G. B. Thuermer,
Fred Brown and the late Alfred Schopf.
The cast of characters for this scene
is as follows:

Emperor Chas. V. of Germany.....
Jesse Earle
Elector Frederick II. of Saxony.....
Dr. F. G. Wolcott
Cardinal Cajetan of Rome.....
C. H. Hemingway
Martin Luther.....Rev. W. P. Christy
Melancthon.....Dr. G. B. Thuermer
Spalatin.....Ted Brown
Knight George.....Dr. Schleritzauer
Courtier.....Fred Schopf
Prince Albert.....Walter Cassemeyer
Prince Eric.....Charles Funk
Page.....Alfred Schopf
Solo—"Dare to be a Luther".....
George Addins
Lords, Knights, etc.
Emperor's guards—H. H. Green, Frank Ehrlinger, Armond Ehrlin-
ger, Frank Miller, George Schal-
ler, Fred Ehrlinger.
Elector's guards—Arthur Schiefel-
bein, Bert Schaller, Ed. Bohmann,
E. T. Evans.
Cardinal's guards—Hans Jaekle, Benjamin Jaekle, Wm. Heise, Oscar Hammarlund.

This scene takes Luther to freedom
but also to outlawry and Mrs. Mayers again taking up the lecture with views tells of the next few years of the reformer's life. During this period the new testament was translated
and the privilege of teaching unmolested was gained from Henry VIII.
of England.

Nuns and Novices.

Another scene is then presented.
This is of no great event, but represents nuns and novices leaving a convent, casting aside their vows. The musical numbers, both choral and solo, are features of the entertainment. The chorus sings "Evening
Prayer," "Lead Kindly Light" and
"Ave Sanctissima," and the solos rendered are "Ave Marie" by Miss Adele
Bishop Medlar and "Over the Line"
by Belle Angell. The other characters in the scene are:

Mother Superior, Mrs. I. M. Holsapple
NUNS.
Isabella.....Belle Angell
Veronica.....Ottella Diehl
Christina.....Edna Wright
Alice.....Mabel Woodman
Sarah.....Abigail Kueck
Angelica.....Florence Shuman
Novices—Mabel Westlake, Mabel
Rusted, Margaret McCullough,
Clara Stevens, Pearl Hall, Mrs.
C. W. Diehl, Alice McPherson,
Mattie Kueck, Vera Lottis.

Then the lecture on Luther's life
is concluded, taking him through his

part is the most difficult dramatically,
but every player last evening proved
capable of his part. Special mention
should be made of Rev. W. P. Christy,
Jesse Earle, Charles H. Hemingway,
Dr. F. G. Wolcott, Dr. G. B. Thuermer,
Fred Brown and the late Alfred Schopf.
The cast of characters for this scene
is as follows:

Emperor Chas. V. of Germany.....
Jesse Earle
Elector Frederick II. of Saxony.....
Dr. F. G. Wolcott
Cardinal Cajetan of Rome.....
C. H. Hemingway
Martin Luther.....Rev. W. P. Christy
Melancthon.....Dr. G. B. Thuermer

Knight George.....Dr. Schleritzauer
Courtier.....Fred Schopf
Prince Albert.....Walter Cassemeyer

ger, Frank Miller, George Schal-
ler, Fred Ehrlinger.

bein, Bert Schaller, Ed. Bohmann,
E. T. Evans.
Cardinal's guards—Hans Jaekle, Benjamin Jaekle, Wm. Heise, Oscar Hammarlund.

This scene takes Luther to freedom
but also to outlawry and Mrs. Mayers
again taking up the lecture with views tells of the next few years of the reformer's life. During this period the new testament was translated
and the privilege of teaching un-
molested was gained from Henry VIII.
of England.

Nuns and Novices.
Another scene is then presented.
This is of no great event, but represents nuns and novices leaving a convent, casting aside their vows. The musical numbers, both choral and
solo, are features of the entertainment. The chorus sings "Evening
Prayer," "Lead Kindly Light" and
"Ave Sanctissima," and the solos rendered are "Ave Marie" by Miss Adele
Bishop Medlar and "Over the Line"
by Belle Angell. The other characters in the scene are:

Mother Superior, Mrs. I. M. Holsapple
NUNS.
Isabella.....Belle Angell
Veronica.....Ottella Diehl
Christina.....Edna Wright
Alice.....Mabel Woodman
Sarah.....Abigail Kueck
Angelica.....Florence Shuman
Novices—Mabel Westlake, Mabel
Rusted, Margaret McCullough,
Clara Stevens, Pearl Hall, Mrs.
C. W. Diehl, Alice McPherson,
Mattie Kueck, Vera Lottis.

Then the lecture on Luther's life
is concluded, taking him through his marriage, the introduction of the Christmas tree and to his death and burial.

Church Militant.

In ending the entertainment the entire company of local talent takes part in an allegorical procession—Church Militant. Flags are waved and swords are drawn while the great Luther battle hymn, "Ein Feste Burg," is sung. In this portion of the entertainment the principal parts are held by the following:

Gentlemen representing German states—Arthur Schoof, Earnest Korst, Will. Nott, E. T. Evenson.
Ladies representing the states of the union—Florence Bagley, Mabel Hollenbeck, Loretta Ashley, Emma Brummond, Mrs. Frank
Miller, Ploy Scofield, Elizabeth
Diehl, Pauline Olsen, Marguerite
Halverson, Minnie Behling, Lillian Steadwell, Minnie Pilder, Marian Hollenbeck, Cora Muck, Frances Lea, Theresa Block.

Miss Olson Pianist.
Miss Clara Olson presided at the piano and though much of the success of the production depended on her not once did she fail. The entertainment was produced by Mrs. Della Mayers, but a great deal of the credit is due Miss Lydia C. Heller of Washington, D. C., who trained and directed the class. This "Story of the Reformation" was originated by Mrs.
H. E. Monroe of the same city. The play will be presented again at the Opera-House this evening and doubtless there will be a good attendance.

ALDERMAN CONNELL

TO JOIN BENEDICTS

Bachelor Days Are About Over for the Popular City Father from the Second.

Alderman E. H. Connell is the last prospective deserter from the fast thinning ranks of the eligible bachelors of Janesville. For some time it has been whispered that the benedicts were about to welcome a new member, but only within the past twenty-four hours has it been possible to get anything but a sweeping denial of the soft impeachment from the popular City Father from the Second. The prospective bride is Miss Maggie Dawson, daughter of Michael Dawson of this city, an accomplished young lady who is held in the highest esteem by a large circle of friends. The ceremony is to take place at St. Patrick's church this month, on a date which has not yet been announced.

Success has crowned our efforts of unfading endeavor and we present to the public with a confidence never before held by any other medicine, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, tea or tablets. Smith Drug Co.

GIRL RUN OVER BY BIG HEAVY WAGON

Auto Caused Team to Run Away and Broodhead Child Suffered Injury

That May Prove Serious.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Broodhead, April 19.—On Wednesday morning little Edith Anderson, aged 2, met with an accident which may prove serious. As Dr. Fairman was riding in his auto, a team of horses hitched to a lumber wagon, became frightened and breaking loose from where they were tied ran down-past the Kilwine house where Mr. Anderson resides. Little Edith was out playing and was struck by one of the horses being thrown to the ground and the wagon passed over her limb.
The sand being very deep where the child fell helped keep her from being more seriously hurt, however, internal injuries are feared.

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Jansville Daily Gazette, Friday, April 20, 1866.—The Hon. I. C. Sloan will address the citizens of this city upon the political conditions of this country, some evening next week, due notice of which will be given later.

Off For the Far West.—Orlin Guernsey, Esq., left for Washington Wednesday to join the Commission appointed to treat with the Indians in the far west. The party will leave Jansville as soon as the preparations necessary for the trip can be made.

Cheap Telegraphing.—A Washington dispatch states that a special committee has been raised in the Senate to consider the question of obtaining a reduction in the rates of telegraphing, and that the committee are favorable to connecting the matter with our postal government. This is a movement in the right direction, and one in which the people feel the greatest interest. Next to cheap reading and cheap postage, the country would be benefited by a system of cheap and speedy telegraphic communication. Telegraphing in this country has not only become a great monopoly, but the present facilities offered the business public are wholly inadequate to meet our wants. Important messages that ought to be answered immediately are delayed in some instances until the very object of telegraphing is defeated. Congress cannot do a better service than to establish a system of this sort, with rates that shall be just high enough to make it self-supporting. The art has not yet been reduced to its greatest practical results and never can be as long as selfish monopolies control it. The government ought to avail itself of this great auxiliary to civilization and extend its benefits within easy reach of the humblest citizen. After a long struggle the people obtained cheap postage, and the day is not far distant when they will have secured to them cheap travel by rail and cheap means of communication by the use of the telegraph.

How Copp Tested the Rum.

A very old inhabitant of Tilton and vicinity will remember the late John Copp of Bay Hill, says a writer in the Boston Herald. One year at having time he procured a barrel of new rum. After he had tapped it his wife warned him that it would not be safe to drink it. "Why not?" he asked. "No matter why not, but remember it will not be safe for you to touch it," she replied.

He was frightened, but was bound to test it. He went down to the village and invited an old soak to the house and filled him up. He was afraid his wife had poisoned the liquor. The next two hours were anxious ones for Copp, but the old soak grew happier all the time. The rum was pronounced safe, and it went the way many another barrel had gone.

"Magic" in South Africa.

Here is a tale of twentieth century magic on the dark continent. Says a South African correspondent: "A remarkable story has reached Durban from Manderson concerning the finding of a purse by alleged magic means. A European lost a purse containing coin, and a native was accused of its theft. The owner applied to a certain old woman to whom are ascribed supernatural powers and received a reply to look under such and such a tree, and he would find the purse. Search was made under the tree indicated, and there was the purse."

Cream Baking Powder

Good Health depends upon the food you eat.

Adds to the healthfulness of all risen flour-foods, while it makes the food lighter, sweeter, finer-flavored, more delicious.

Exercise care in purchasing baking powder to see that you get Dr. Price's, which makes the food more wholesome and at the same time more palatable.

NOTE—There are many mixtures, made in imitation of good baking powders, which the prudent will avoid. They may be known by their price, being sold for ten to twenty-five cents a pound, or a cent an ounce. They are made with alum, interfere with the healthfulness of the food.

PRESS COMMENT.

Quite a Boozie Item.

Milwaukee Sentinel: "We drank up approximately $1,548,000,000 in 1905," says the New York World. Congratulations.

Who's Buying?

Chicago Tribune: The market price of a full grown boa constrictor is $20 a foot—and there is no snake trust, either.

More Pay For Lighter Work.

Exchange: An opera singer who was once a blacksmith is to be brought to the United States from Europe, at a salary of $1,200 a night. Here, Corried, after his experience in St. Louis and Kansas City, is beginning, however, to suspect that the iron isn't hot any more.

No Sentiment Among Gas-men.

Chicago Record-Herald: Near the tomb of General Grant in New York, an immense gas tank has been erected. The tank overshadows the tomb and spoils the beauty of its surroundings. It is useless to expect some gas companies to have any respect for sentiment, public or otherwise.

A Duluth Loop-the-Looper.

Oshkosh Northwestern: A Duluth man, so it is announced, after two years of hard work has succeeded in looping the loop on roller skates and will now go on the road with this specialty. Just how long he will manage to stay out of the hospital, however, is another proposition.

Pessimism.

A SMART MAN WHO LOST HIS MONEY...

A man bought his paint in Chicago, telling us how he bought his linseed oil at 35c per gallon. We questioned him about his order. It was:

1 bbl. Oil, 40 gals. at 35c. $14.00
1 bbl. Venetian Red, 360 lbs. at 3 1/4c. 12.60 Freight 1.20Our price is: 1 bbl. Oil, 40 gals. at 45c. $18.00
1 bbl. Ven. Red, 360 lbs. 2c. 7.20

He could have saved $25.20 by buying of us and received first class goods besides.

Gentlemen, you have to pay full price wherever you buy. We sell quality first oil, by barrel 45c; best American Venetian Red by barrel 2c a pound; strictly pure white lead, $7.60 by the hundred-pound keg. We sell varnish, glass, putty, colors, Heath & Milligan Best Prepared Paint, Jap-a-Lac, sunshine finish, the best varnish stain. Learn a lesson from above.

Shocking conditions as to morality exist in our midst and no steps are taken to stop them. The school board should begin a rigid examination of conditions.

There may be some excuse for the university faculty taking rigid methods to purge the athletics of professionalism that can not be appreciated by the hair-brained students under their charge.

PROGRESS IN AERONAUTICS.

In airships of the kind that Santos Dumont has built and used there will be further improvements in time, no doubt, but none of much consequence have been recently reported. For the present the development of the dirigible balloon seems to be at a standstill. The most significant advances of late have been in the design and operation of the aeroplane, which, for reasons that need not be discussed, had fallen into almost complete neglect. So far as the public can now judge, the Wright brothers of Dayton, Ohio, have accomplished more with this type of machine than any of their rivals or predecessors. Doubtless in response to a formal request these men, sent to the Aero Club a few weeks ago a statement regarding their experiments in 1904 and 1905. The revelations thus made were surprising enough to attract wide attention and also to provide more or less skepticism.

With commendable enterprise, "The Scientific American," undertook not long ago to secure, if it were possible, independent corroboration of the Wright brothers' story. First the aeronauts were asked to furnish a list of a few persons who had observed their flights. Then a set of questions was sent to nineteen of these witnesses, ten of whom replied. Abundant testimony to the substantial accuracy of the Wright brothers' claims was obtained, for the catchism related to the dates and length of the flights, the paths pursued, the force of the wind, the absence of any connection between the flying machine and mechanism on the earth, the certainty that one of the aeronauts personally went with the machine. In a recent magazine one of the answers is printed in full. It comes from Octave Chanute, an American engineer of high standing, who was a pioneer in this class of experiment. Like Lilienthal and the Wright brothers, Mr. Chanute has made almost countless ventures in gliding down an aerial toboggan slide, his headway being gained by the force of gravitation. His word alone

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Golden voiced singer, Al. H. Wilson, and Janesville audiences so well that he has made arrangements to appear at the Myers Grand on Tuesday night the Myers Grand Friday, April 27. A feature of more than special interest, especially to music lovers, in the performance are the beautiful, time-forgotten and catchy melodies. Mr. Wilson sings six new songs during the play. The success of each song being so strongly marked that the question as to his manager, Frank Hall, is most ex-to which one is the best is purely a matter of personal opinion. There is the charming love ballad, "No Love Thine," the beautiful heart story, "My German Rose," the first young generation how the "Grand Old Man from Boston" looked when he whipped Kibrala and was defeated for the world's championship fourteen years ago in New Orleans. Of course he is older and grayer but he still handles his fists as no other man in America has even been able to do and is still the same man who in days old met all comers night after night. The prices for this extra engagement are ten, twenty and thirty cents.

OLD SORES OFTEN LEAD TO CANCER

Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal and shows signs of becoming chronic, it should arouse suspicion, because many of these places lead to Cancer. It may appear as an ordinary sore at first, and is given treatment as such, with some simple salve, wash or plaster, with the hope that the place will heal, but the real seat of the trouble is in the blood and awhile the deadly poison begins to eat into the surrounding flesh and the ulcer spreads rapidly, becoming more offensive and alarming until at last the sufferer finds he is afflicted with Cancer. Cancerous ulcers often start from a boil, wart, mole or pimple, which has been bruised or roughly handled, showing that the taint is in the blood, perhaps inherited. Another cause for non-healing ulcers and sores is the remains of some constitutional disease or the effects of a long spell of sickness. S. S. S. goes down to the very root of the trouble and cures so thoroughly that there is never any sign of the trouble in after years. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. the place begins to improve, the discharge gradually grows less, the inflammation leaves, the flesh resumes its healthy color, and soon the sore is well, because every vestige of the cause has been removed from the blood. Book on sores and ulcers and medical advice without charge.

The Brethren

By RIDER HAGGARD,

Author of "She," "King Solomon's Mines," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903-1904, BY RIDER HAGGARD.

Rosamund listened and moved her head backward toward the boat. Then Wolf spoke—few words and sharp: "Begone, girl! We guard the boat." Of a sudden she wheeled around the great gray horse and, striking the spurs into its flank, drove straight at the deep water. A moment the stallion lunged, then from the low quay and sprang out wide and clear. Deep it sank, but not for long; for presently its rider's head rose above the water, and, regaining the saddle, from which she had floated, Rosamund sat firm and headed the horse straight for the distant bank. Now a shout of wonderment went up from the woman thieves, for this was a deed that they had never thought a girl would dare. But the brethren laughed as they saw that the gray swam well and, leaping from their saddles, ran forward a few paces—eight or ten—along the mole to where

The stallion sprang out wide and clear. It was narrow, as they went tearing the cloths from their shoulders and, since they had none, throwing them over their left arms to serve as bucklers.

The band cursed silently; only their captain gave an order to his spokesmen: "Out there, down to the boat! We shall take her before she reaches shore or drowns."

For a moment they wavered, for the tall twin warriors who barred the way had eyes that told of wounds and death. Then with a rush they came, scrambling over the rough stones, but here the causeway was so narrow that while their strength lasted two men were as good as twenty, nor, because of the mud and water, could they be got at from either side. So after all it was but two to two, and the brethren were the better two. Their long swords flashed and smote, and when Wolf's was lifted again it shone red, and a man fell with a heavy splash into the waters of the creek and wallowed there till he died. Godwin's foe was down also, and, as it seemed, sped.

Then at a muttered word, not waiting

Thousands of Women

ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that it Really Does Make Sick Women Well.

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowed indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished such widespread results for good? Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and restorative ever discovered to act directly upon the female system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), weakness, displacements, inflammation, ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Any way write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

to be attacked by others, the brethren sprang forward. The huddled mob in front of them saw them come and shrink back, but before they had gone a yard the sword was at work behind. They swore strange oaths; they caught their feet among the rocks and rolled upon their faces. In their confusion three of them were pushed into the water, where two sank in the mud and were drowned, the third only dragging himself ashore, while the last made good their escape from the causeway. But two had been cut down and three had fallen, for whom there was no escape. They strove to rise and fight, but the linen masks daped about their eyes so that their blows went wide, while the long swords of the brethren smote and smote again upon their helmets and harness as the hammer of smiths smite upon an anvil until they rolled over silent and still.

"Back," said Godwin, "for here the road is wide and they will get behind us."

So back they moved slowly, with their faces to the foe, stopping just in front of the first man whom Godwin had seemed to kill and who lay face upward with arms outstretched.

"So far we have done well," said Wolf, with a short laugh. "Are you hurt?"

"No," answered his brother, "but do not boast till the battle is over. For many are left and they will come on this no more. Pray God they have no spears or bows."

Then he turned and looked behind him, and there from the shore now swam the gray horse steadily, and there upon its back sat Rosamund.

Godwin was right. Although their leader commanded them in a stern voice, the band sank from the reach of those awful swords and instead sought for stones to hurl at them. But here lay more mud than pebbles, and the rocks of which the causeway was built were too heavy for them to lift. Nor after some while the man called "master" spoke through his lieutenant, and certain of them ran into the thorn thickets, and thence appeared again bearing the long oars of the boat.

"Their counsel is to batter us down with the oars. What shall we do now, brother?" asked Godwin.

"What we can," answered Wolf. "It matters little if Rosamund is spared by the waters, for they will scarcely take her now."

As he spoke Wolf heard a sound behind him, and of a sudden Godwin threw up his arms and sank to his knees. Round he sprang, and there upon his feet stood that man whom they had thought dead, and in his hand a bloody sword. At him leaped Wolf, and so fierce were the blows he smote that this time he fell, never to stir again. Then he looked at his brother and saw that the blood was running down his face and blinding him.

"Save yourself, Wolf, for I am sped," murmured Godwin.

"Nay, or you could not speak!" And he cast his arm round him and kissed him on the brow.

Then a thought came into his mind, and lifting Godwin as though he were a child, he ran back to where the horses stood and heaved him on to the saddle.

"Hold fast," he cried, "by mane and pommel. Keep your mind and hold fast, and I will save you yet!"

Passing the reins over his left arm, Wolf leaped upon the back of his own horse and, turned it. Ten seconds more and the pirates, who were gathering with the oars where the paths joined at the root of the causeway, saw the two great horses thundering down upon them—on one a sore wounded man, his bright hair dabbled with blood, his hands gripping mane and saddle, and on the other the warrior Wolf, with starting eyes and a face like the face of a flame, shaking his red sword and for the second time that day shouting aloud: "A D'Arcy! A D'Arcy! Contre D'Arcy, contre mort!"

They saw, they shouted, they massed themselves together and held up the oars to meet them. But Wolf spurred fiercely, and, short as was the way, the heavy horses, trained to tourney, gathered their speed. Now they were on them. The oars were swept aside like reeds; all round them flashed the swords, and Wolf felt that he was hurt, he knew not where. But his sword flashed also, one blow—there was no time for more—not the man beneath it sank like an empty sack.

By St. Peter, they were through, and Godwin still swayed upon the saddle, and yonder, bearing the farther shore, the gray horse with its burden still battled in the tide! They were through; they were through, while to Wolf's eyes the air swam red, and the earth seemed as though it rose up to meet them, and everywhere was flaming fire.

But the shouts had died away behind them, and the only sound was the sound of the galloping of their horses' hoofs. Then that also grew faint and died away, and silence and darkness fell upon the mind of Wolf.

EMIL SCHAAD HAS SENT LETTER NOW

Brodhead Man Thinks An Injustice Has Been Done Him in Recent Article.

Emil Schaad of Brodhead has written the following communication to the Gazette in explanation of the alleged deal he made with Sam Stewart recently and from which Stewart is trying to escape alleging many things, undue influence, etc. These Mr. Schaad denies and writes his explanation of the transaction which is to be thoroughly aired in the courts unless settled privately. The following is the communication:

Editor, Janesville Gazette: I note in a recent issue of your paper an account of my deal with Sam Stewart, which is so far from the truth and which so abundantly with malicious trash, that it seems indeed strange that a paper of your standing should publish same without taking the pains to ascertain matters.

I do not think, however, that any had intentions on your part prompted the publishing of same, and sincerely trust that your sense of honor will not allow you to hesitate in adjusting this disagreeable matter promptly.

Your article states that Mr. Stewart was put in intoxicating condition by the undersigned, and in this state was induced to contract away property worth $5,000 for collaterals worth $700. Now, let me state the facts: Mr. Stewart contracted 80 acres of land, worth $60 an acre, amounting to $4,800, on which there is a mortgage of $2,100, which I am to assume; further one span of horses, worth $240 and personal property, worth $240, making in all a value of $5,030. My stock of the live barn traded for this value was estimated by disinterested persons at $3,500. These are the facts regarding the remunerative side of the deal.

As to the other assertions I will state plainly that they are malicious lies, which I can easily prove. The fact is that Mr. Stewart was negotiating the deal from the beginning to the end and that I was very reluctant to close same. Neither was Mr. Stewart intoxicated before or during the transaction. Nor were any horses taken away from Mr. Stewart on the street or anywhere else. Further, it was Mr. Stewart himself who suggested that either of the contracting party sign a note of $300 for forfeiture.

Now, Mr. Editor, these are the facts in the case and I hope that you will publish them with as much prominence as you did that slanderous article above referred to.
